

Burntsand a Top-Level Elite Sponsor at EMC World 2009 in Orlando in MayContinuing Commitment to the Annual EMC User Conference

TORONTO, April 29, 2009 - Burntsand Inc. (Burntsand) (TSX:BRT), a North American business consulting and technology services company, today announced its continued Elite-level sponsorship at EMC World 2009, EMC's annual user conference. EMC World will take place May 18-21, 2009 in Orlando, Florida. Burntsand is a premier partner of EMC's Content Management and Archiving division, and a leading member of the EMC Select Services program.

Burntsand has been a top-level sponsor of the annual EMC user conference for 8 consecutive years. The conference is an important forum for highlighting how Burntsand's solutions and capabilities enhance and extend EMC's Content Management and Archiving platform.

At EMC World 2009, Burntsand will be presenting two conference sessions.

1. Marty Glover, Burntsand President and CEO, will co-present with Kertis Tomlins, Principal Consultant for Healthcare, on the information management challenges facing Healthcare.
2. Cindy Menges, Burntsand Enterprise Content Management Practice Director, US East, will co-present with Donald Milton, Principal Business Analyst at GTECH in Providence RI, on the business value of the latest version of EMC Documentum 6.5, and best practices for doing an upgrade.

Burntsand Enterprise Content Management experts will be available to discuss how their solutions for integrating and managing information solve real business problems at the company's booth (No. 315).

"As a long-time supporter of EMC's annual event, we're excited about this chance to showcase our thought leadership and forge new relationships," said Marty Glover, Burntsand's President and CEO. "Our continuing participation in the EMC user conference, and in particular the Momentum content management community, reflects our strong commitment to our customers as well as our important partnership with EMC."
